The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 6, 9-11, 21, 25, 31-34, 36, 39, 40, 42-84, 93-108 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 5.

Claims 1-3, 5, 7, 13-19, 22-24, 26-29, 30, 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Stoddart et al WO 0051724.

Stoddart utilizes the instant inorganic particles (p.5, line – 14 –line 3, p. 10) of porous – channeled matrix compositions impregnated with environmentally sensitive actives (p.5, line 9-34) farnesol, geranal, nerol, geranylacetate, for example. The instant similar structured volatile pheromone acetates would be for one desirous of controlling insects, obvious to use, as cited arterrals are examples only. The use of the specific pheromone is within the purview of one in the art to select dependent only upon the insect for which control is desired, motivation to incorporate in the Stood art matrix is the pheromone protection afforded in the slow release matrix. Silica matrices are disclosed at p. 10, lines 5-15, inclusive of the instant sodium polyacrylate latex, claimed as a structure-directing agent. The X-Ray diffraction peak, as a measure of crystallinity, is indicated as obtainable with the particular material and porosity desired. Either parallel or interconnected channels are shown (p.6, lines 24-34) as in pore size; both determinable by Artisan to use. Metal oxides are at P. 6, lines 11-22.

Art Unit: 1616

Claims 1-3, 5, 7, 8, 13-20, 22-24, 26-30, 41, 85, 87, 90, 92 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stoddart et al WO 0051724 in view of Stucky et al WO 99/37705 and OHNO-4579779.

Stoddart (above) shows incorporation of vaporous actives, including pheromones similar to the instant compounds, in the instant particles of inorganic channeled matrices, but does not fully detail how the matrices materials are prepared. Stucky does. The silica forms used by Stoddart, for example, are shown at p. 22, 23, prepared by incorporation of surfactant (p.23, bottom) into the silica composition to produce particles.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made desiring to utilize stable composition of vaporous actives to utilize Stoddart's with the particular means of obtaining the particles exemplified by Stucky. Ohno further shows the instant pheromone thus obvious to incorporate.

It has not clearly been established by Objective showing of some unobvious and/or unexpected results that the administration of the particular form of active, carrier, or the particular Locus to be treated provides any greater level of prior art expectation as claimed. Further, applicant has showed no criticality as to the ingredient actives concentrations, ratios or Application.

The selection of each ingredient and form thereof is result effective parameter chosen to obtain the desired effects. It would be obvious to vary the nature of each ingredients to optimize the effects desired, and the use ingredients for the functionality for which they are known to be used is not a basis for patentability.

Claims 1, 5, 7, 8, 12, 13, 20, 26, 27, 29, 30, 35, 37, 38, 41, 85, 87, 88, 91, 92 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nagura et al – EP 0131783.

Particles of inorganic matrices (Pre~~6~~lines, 18-20) on a polymeric vehicle contain the instant pheromones, surfactant and latexes (P.241, Example 6, 7).

Claims 7, 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 already requires pheromone – 7 does not further limit 1. Same with 37.

Applicant's arguments filed on November 3 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's arguments have been considered in the rejection presented. Amendment has resulted in withdrawal of rejections of record.
